KAHPERD Through the Decades

1920's

The beginning of KAHPERD – November 16, 1920

- 1920 A meeting was held in Topeka on November 16, 1920 for the purpose of organizing a Kansas Physical Education Association. A constitution was drafted at this meeting as well as a proposal that would require health and physical education in all Kansas public elementary and secondary schools. The proposal was given to the Kansas Legislature for action. Elected officers at the first meeting were: Dr. James Naismith, President; Katherine Rawles, First Vice-President; Grace Elmore, Second Vice-President; Clair Turner, Third Vice-President; and Edna McCullough, Secretary-Treasurer. Other persons in attendance besides elected officers were Dr. Crumbine, L.P. Dittmore, and Ethel Ireland. All members in attendance paid initial dues of one dollar.
- 1928 The 1920 meeting was the only meeting held until November, 1928. L. P. Dittmore called upon all persons interested in physical education to meet at the close of the Kansas State Teachers Association physical education round table. It was decided to once again try to organize a state association of physical education. They decided on the name of Kansas State Physical Education Association (K.S.P.E.A).
- 1929 The first meeting of the Executive Committee of the Kansas State Physical Education Association was held in the Board of Education offices in Topeka on April 6, 1929. Those present at this meeting were: President L.P. Washburn, Gladys Tufts, Secretary-Treasurer; Strong Hinman, Edna McCullough, and L.P. Dittmore. The purpose of this meeting was to draw up a constitution to be presented to all of the physical education directors and other interested persons.

The balance in the bank for the Association was $18.15.

The first convention was held at Wichita North High School, November 1, 1929. Sixty four members attended the first convention. The guest speaker for the first session was J.F. Rogers of the National Physical Education Service speaking on, "How to Secure a State Superintendent of Physical Education." The proposed constitution was read to those in attendance and adopted as read by the assembled association members.

A survey was made for the purpose of determining the needs of physical education and to determine the status of physical education in the public schools.

Other projects carried on by the association were: to work for a state law for medical examinations for all school children; a request to the State Superintendent to raise the requirements for teachers of physical education; set up standards in Physical education for the various size schools in the state; collect information about the departmental content of professional courses offered by the state colleges, and continued an effort to obtain a state supervisor of physical education.

- 1932 The effects of the depression on physical education programs were felt throughout Kansas. Strong Hinman said, "There is a rumbling throughout the state directed toward physical education, health, and athletics. The time is ripe for all types of demonstrations and exhibitions such as play days, pageants, gym shows, and circuses. Each member of the organization should do their share in getting their program before the public." In many of the communities, physical education was among the first of the school activities to be cut.

Honor Award Winners

James Naismith

APEA

Honor Award

1931

James Naismith grew up in Canada and was raised by his grandmother and uncle after both of his parents contracted typhoid fever and died when he was 9 years old. He graduated from McGill University in Montreal in 1887 with a B.A. in Physical Education. He stayed at McGill for 3 years teaching physical education and serving as its first athletic director. He also preached at a local church as an ordained minister.

Mr. Naismith left Montreal to become a physical education teacher at the YMCA International Training School in Springfield, Massachusetts. At the Springfield YMCA, James struggled with a rowdy class which was confined to indoor games throughout the harsh New England winter. Under orders from Dr. Luther Gulick, head of Springfield YMCA Physical Education, Mr. Naismith was given 14 days to create an indoor game that would provide an “athletic distraction.” He named the new game “Basket Ball” and created 13 basic rules for the game. The first game of “Basket Ball” was played in December 1891.

In 1894, Mr. Naismith married Maude Sherman and they had 5 children: Margaret Mason (1895), Helen Carolyn (1897), John Edwin (1900), Maude Ann (1904) and James Sherman (1913).

After he left Springfield, he went to Denver and taught physical education at the YMCA of Denver from 1895-1898. He acquired a medical degree while in Denver.

The University of Kansas men’s basketball program officially began in 1898. He was not initially hired to coach basketball, but rather as a chapel director and physical education instructor. James later became Professor Emeritus in Kansas and retired in 1937 at the age of 76. Including his years as coach, he served as athletic director and faculty at KU for almost 40 years. Kansas University has a road named in his honor, Naismith Drive, which runs in front of Allen Fieldhouse. The court in Allen Fieldhouse, James Naismith Court, is named in his honor. There is also a college dormitory, Naismith Hall, named in his honor.

Dr. Naismith became the first President of the Kansas Physical Education Association on November 16, 1920. A constitution was drafted at this meeting as well as a proposal that would require health and physical education all Kansas public elementary and secondary schools.

In 1936, Dr. Naismith was named the Honorary President of the international Basketball Federation and passed out the Olympic basketball medals at the first official Olympic basketball competition.

The Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame carries his name and he was an inaugural induction in 1959. The NCAA rewards its best players and coaches annually with the Naismith Awards. He was inducted into the Canadian Basketball Hall of Fame, the Canadian Olympic Hall of Fame, the Canadian Sports of Fame, the Ontario Sports Legends Hall of Fame, the Ottawa Sports Hall of Fame, the McGill University Sports Hall of Fame, the Kansas State Sports Hall of Fame and the FIBA Hall of Fame.

He was captain of the basketball team in 1913 and was inducted to the Pizza Hut Shocker Hall of Fame at Wichita State in 1981.

Mr. Hinman became a dominant force in establishing physical education in the north and central areas of the country. After receiving his professional training at the Springfield, Massachusetts YMCA Training School (now Springfield College), he became supervisor of physical education in the public schools of Fort Dodge, Iowa (1917-1920). From there he returned to his home state, Kansas where he became active in the Middle West Society of Physical Education (forerunner to Central District).

Strong Hinman was elected President of the American Physical Education Association (AAHPERD) in 1935 during APEA's 50th anniversary. In 1940, he was selected as a delegate for the Missouri Valley A.A.U.

He said, "There is a rumbling throughout the state directed toward physical education, health, and athletics. The time is ripe for all types of demonstrations and exhibitions such as play days, pageants, gym shows, and circuses.
